

TNR acquired by Hörmann Group

On Aug. 9, TNR Industrial Doors, a manufacturer of commercial and industrial high performance doors in Barrie, Ontario, was sold to the Hörmann Group.

“Becoming part of the Hörmann Group is a very promising step for the future of TNR,” said Cathy Buckingham, TNR’s president and CEO. “Hörmann has world-class engineering departments that will help us accelerate our product development and improvements. We are convinced that all of our customers will benefit from (the purchase).”

Buckingham said that TNR’s management team, operations, customer service, and sales force will continue to operate as they have in the past, and she will remain as president and CEO.

Established in 1935, the Hörmann Group is one of the largest door manufacturing companies in the world. Headquartered in Germany, Hörmann has manufacturing operations and sales offices in 30 countries worldwide. ■

Janus acquires Asta

In August, Janus International announced the acquisition of Asta Door, a supplier of rolling door products throughout the United States.

Asta will continue to operate as a stand-alone company. The planned relocation of Asta’s primary manufacturing facility and headquarters to Cartersville, Ga., from Acworth, Ga., will continue, with completion slated for early 2018.

“We are committed to the company’s continued growth and prosperity,” said David Curtis, Janus president and CEO. “We will look for synergies between both firms and do our best to take full advantage of them; however, we do not foresee any changes in operations for either company moving forward.” Asta will continue to be led by the current president, James C. French III. ■

Clopay Avante named top 100 product

In the August issue of Professional Remodeler magazine, Clopay’s Avante Collection aluminum and glass garage door was named one of the Top 100 Products of 2017.

The magazine’s Top 100 list comes from reader engagement in the doors, windows, building materials, fixtures, and fittings that have appeared in the magazine over the past 12 months, determining which products have generated the strongest interest.

Clopay began marketing the Avante for residential applications in 2004, when contemporary garage door design options were extremely limited. More than a decade later, it continues to attract attention from architects and builders. ■

Wayne Dalton named #1 in study

In June, Wayne Dalton announced that it had been recognized by Builder Magazine’s 2017 Brand Use Study as the #1 provider of quality garage doors. In its 20 years, the report has become one of the most anticipated industry resources for trends and brand and product information.

The 2017 Brand Use Study focused on 51 categories of the home. More than 900 qualified builders, developers, and general contractors participated in the survey, which examined decision-makers’ involvement in product selection. ■

Clopay Doors featured on Idea House

The October issue of This Old House magazine will feature Clopay Canyon Ridge Collection Limited Edition Series faux wood garage doors on the magazine’s 2017 Idea House, a unique coastal home in South Kingstown, R.I. Marathon Door and Glass in Hopedale, Mass., managed the installation.

The three-story home highlights innovative building techniques and durable, weatherproof, energy-efficient materials for coastal building. The home was also to be revealed online at thisoldhouse.com on Sept. 15 and is to appear on several episodes of “This Old House” on PBS this fall. ■

Overhead Door featured in Idea House

In the August issue of Southern Living magazine, Overhead Door had two garage doors featured in the 2017 Southern Living Idea House in Bald Head Island, N.C. The 3,300-sq.-ft. Idea House showcases the latest residential design ideas.

Overhead Door of Wilmington installed the custom mahogany wood-finished doors. The garages will be used exclusively for golf carts, as cars are not allowed on the island. ■
