

Overhead Door names new CEO and new president

In December, Overhead Door announced that Sanwa Holdings appointed Kelly Terry as chief executive officer, succeeding Dennis Stone. Stone retired after nearly 18 years of dedicated service with the company.

Terry joined the company in 2007 as senior vice president of operations for the access systems division. Previously, he gained more than 18 years of experience working at various companies, including Newell Rubbermaid, O’Sullivan Industries, and WestPoint Stevens.

Terry’s former Overhead Door position as president of the access systems division was filled by Jamie Byrne. Byrne joined the access systems division team in 2015 as president and general manager of the Overhead Door ribbon channel. Previously, he served as senior vice president of Mohawk Hard Surfaces for North America. ■

Terry

Stone

Byrne

Arrow Tru-Line names Thomas Brockley as CEO

In October, Arrow Tru-Line appointed Thomas Brockley as its new chief executive officer, succeeding Marvin Miller.

Brockley brings 25 years of experience in product development, process improvement, and aftermarket parts operations working at several companies including GE, CNH, and Eaton.

Brockley holds an MBA from Northwestern University-Kellogg School of Management and a degree in electrical engineering. ■

Brockley

Pete Haikio appointed CEO of Nice/HySecurity

In January, Nice/HySecurity announced Pete Haikio as its new chief executive officer, succeeding Brian DeNault. DeNault retired in December 2018 after stewarding the company for almost 40 years.

Haikio said, “Brian DeNault took HySecurity from a fledgling niche industrial gate operator manufacturer to the second-largest gate operator manufacturer in the United States, while generously volunteering his time and resources to advance industry professionalism. His shoes are too big to fill.”

Aaron Cope assumes Haikio’s former position as vice president of sales. Cope brings 20 years of experience leading teams in access control and building material supply companies. ■

Haikio

TNR Doors selects new director of operations

In November, TNR announced the promotion of Nick Marando to director of operations. Since 2011, he has worked as TNR’s manager of engineering, overseeing the team in the development of the high-speed doors and helping to advance new technologies in production, process, and design. Marando has also been a key player in TNR’s integration and standardization with the Hörmann Group, who acquired TNR in August 2017.

Marando has been involved in DASMA since his start in the door industry and currently holds the position of chairman for the High Performance Door Division. ■

Marando

Haas Door hires new vice president

In October, Haas Door welcomed Paul McManus as their new vice president of sales and business development. McManus brings years of garage door industry experience, beginning with various positions at his family’s Door Boy dealership in New Jersey. Most recently, he directed sales and marketing for companies such as Arrow Tru-line, A-Tech, and Service Spring.

He has served on the IDA board of directors for over 12 years and was also recognized with the Jerry Reynolds Award in 2018. ■

McManus

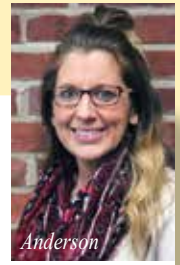

Phantom Screens appoints new CRO and CFO

In November, Phantom Screens announced two new hires to its executive team. Rod Terry was named the new chief revenue officer, and Ralph Berzins was appointed chief financial officer.

Rod Terry brings vast experience in executive management, previously serving as president of Creekside Customer Foods and chief executive officer at Larosa Fine Foods.

Berzins joined Phantom Screens’ executive team as the chief financial officer in August 2018. He brings extensive experience, having served as vice president of finance for Serta Simmons Bedding Canada and as vice president of financial integration for OfficeMax based in Chicago, Ill. ■

Anderson

Raynor hires marketing manager

In December, Raynor welcomed Staci Anderson as marketing manager. Anderson comes to Raynor from Wahl Clipper, where she gained seven years of experience in product management and marketing.

Anderson holds a marketing professional sales degree from Illinois State University. ■ people

Hörmann prepares for expansion with three new hires

In February, Hörmann opened a new wholesale sales distribution center in Burgettstown, Pa. located in the northeast corner of Hörmann High Performance Doors.

David Davies was hired as Hörmann's new sales distribution center manager. He has an extensive background in logistics, distribution, warehousing, and sales.

Hörmann also hired Cole Leitch as the Upper Midwest region sales manager and Seth Shearman as a product engineer. Shearman will develop new products in the wind-load market and help with the installation of new equipment in the Sparta, Tenn., facility.

Shearman holds a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Tennessee Technological University. ■

Davies

Leitch

Shearman

Service Spring welcomes new service center manager

In December, Service Spring welcomed Nicholas Hitt as manager of their Chicago area service center location. Hitt brings 14 years of door industry experience and a multifaceted set of skills. He began his career in 2004 at House of Doors, where he took on many roles, including warehouse, IT, and service manager positions.

He later worked as operations manager responsible for all residential door sales and commercial door sales and overseeing installation crews, warehouse personnel, and service crews. ■

Hitt

Garrison

Re-Source employee appointed to CODA board of directors

In December, Re-Source announced the re-election of inside sales representative Courtney Garrison to the CODA board of directors.

Previously, Garrison served on the CODA board from 2014-2016 as secretary and received the Distinguished Service Award in 2016. She has seven years of experience in the garage door industry, serving the western region. ■

RAPIDO™ TWICE AS FAST

2X FASTER*

OPEN AND CLOSE YOUR DOOR TWICE AS FAST WITH A RAPIDO OPERATOR FROM MANARAS-OPERA.

The RAPIDO™ features a door speed up to 2 times faster than standard models available to the commercial and industrial door market.

The RAPIDO™ increases the longevity of the complete door system, designed to speed-up industrial standard lift sectional doors while smoothly managing soft-starts and soft-stops.

CHOOSING THE RAPIDO™ IS SIMPLE WHEN TIME AND ENERGY SAVINGS IS A MUST.

On-board control and monitoring of external entrapment protection devices, provide speed managing features and enhanced performance and reliability.

*The RAPIDO™ operator is up to 2X the speed of a standard jackshaft operator.

CALL US FOR MORE INFORMATION: 1-800-361-2260

www.manaras.com

- MEMBER OF THE CANIMEX GROUP -