Don't Get Angry, Get Involved

To the Editor:

In the letters you received on your presidential poll, I noted that one reader was angry that you mixed business and politics.

I am a member of Associated Builders and Contractors, which is a nationwide group promoting fairness in contracting and representing the interests of its members in state and national legislative matters. Their motto is "Get into politics or get out of business."

As door dealers and businesspeople we all need to be active in the political arena. Other business groups have consistently received special breaks, etc., that have helped their industries. Just as important is to help prevent bad laws and regulations from getting on the books. Look at the lead paint rules that we all now must live under.

I would like to see more commentary on politics and legislative actions.

Keep It Up

To the Editor:

I just wanted to compliment you on the "Website Wars" article. You have again proved that you are a source of knowledge and integrity in our field. You have an uncanny ability to display facts and arguments clearly and without bias.

Please continue the hard work. Rest assured that our industry needs you and Door & Access Systems to be a positive and honest light in our industry.
